TODAY'S PICK

Bharat Electronics (₹195.4): Buy

AKHIL NALLAMUTHU
BL Research Bureau

The stock of Bharat Electronics Limited (BEL), which established a long-term uptrend at about ₹60 in May 2020. Although, there have been considerable price corrections, especially in August 2020 and March 2021, the direction of the major trend has remind up and the pull-backs were bought into, resulting in the stock aligning with the overall uptrend. The 50-day moving average has been acting as a strong support for the stock.

In July this year, the stock entered consolidation phase and was largely oscillating within ₹178 and ₹190. While it did drop to ₹162 in the first week of August, the stock reversed higher swiftly. The rally continued and last week, the scrip made a decisive close above ₹190, opening the door for further strengthening. Also, the breakout was accompanied by good volume. Even though the stock witnessed a price drop on Monday, it remains above the important support of ₹190. Until the stock lies above this level, the trend will be bullish. Hence, traders can buy with stop-loss at ₹190 for a target of ₹204.

(Note: The recommendations are based on technical analysis. There is a risk of loss in trading.)

BROKER'S CALL

ICICI SECURITIES
M&M Fin (Reduce)
Target: ₹145
CMP: ₹168.1

Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services (MMFS), in its August business update, indicated 57 per cent y-o-y disbursement growth to ₹2,150 crore (moderating a tad from ₹2,400 crore in July). July/August trend suggests Q2 FY22 disbursement growth of 65 per cent y-o-y/70 per cent q-o-q, albeit on a low base, while collection efficiency is improving m-o-m to 97 per cent.

It is still near February 21 level and lower than March 2021 level. Compared to stable-to-marginal decline trend in July, there was meaningful reduction in NPA contracts in August and is expected to continue in September as well. With revival in economic activity, there was hope on roll-backs, upgrades and provisioning write-backs. With improved customer cashflow and reduction in stress bucket, visibility enhances on stage-3 assets being managed at nearly 11 per cent by Q4 FY22 (15.5 per cent in Q1-FY22).

Endeavour to contain net stage-3 at less than 4 per cent will keep credit cost elevated. With over 50 per cent disbursement growth in H1 FY22, we now estimate AUM growth at 7 per cent for FY22 (earlier about 5 per cent). Volatility in earnings, asset quality behaviour and growth underperformance to peers would cap re-rating beyond 1.1x FY23 book. Maintain our Reduce rating on the stock with a revised target price of ₹145 (earlier: ₹135).

MOTILAL OSWAL
Jubilant Foodworks (Buy)
Target: ₹4,830
CMP: ₹4,150

Jubilant Foodworks FY21 annual report highlights the management's efforts to stay ahead of its peers and reap the tremendous opportunities in the Indian QSR space. In addition to its delivery and value moat, the company is boosting its technological moat to enhance its lead over its QSR peers and aggregators. Improving its pre-order experience, usage of Hindi and regional languages, setting up of its analytics and insights division are some of the efforts made.

Macro factors favouring delivery are extremely strong: Robust growth in urban and rural internet penetration is likely to be boosted further by the launch of 5G technology. Online ordering is growing strongly, even in smaller centres.

As a result, delivery and takeaway (a clear focus area going forward) will be the key drivers of SSSG in the next few years, even when dine-in recovers. Sustainable sourcing and food safety is increasingly becoming a vital focus area to boost its long-term growth potential. Given the structural opportunities in the QSR space and Jubilant Foodworks' dominant positioning, with a proven and profitable model, we expect it to be the key beneficiary of favorable trends (shift towards branded players). We had upgraded our rating to Buy after its Q1 FY22 result.
